

Problem Statement

The goal is to analyze coffee sales data to understand trends in product performance, customer behavior, and geographic distribution. The company wants to improve sales strategies by identifying:

- Best-selling coffee types and roast variants.
- Top customers by purchase volume.
- Regional sales performance.
- Trends across time (monthly/yearly sales insights).

This analysis helps the business enhance marketing decisions, optimize inventory, and improve customer targeting.